Read the passage and answer question 1 that follows.

As we walked out into the hall, we saw Johnny's mother. I knew her. She was a little woman, with straight black hair and big black eyes like Johnny's. But that was as far as the resemblance went. Johnnycake's eyes were fearful and sensitive; hers were cheap and hard.

1. _____ Based on the passage, the imagery used to describe Johnny's mother is effective because of which reason?
- The imagery is effective at painting a clear picture as to what Johnny's mother looks like
 - The imagery contrasts Johnny and his mother and is effective because it portrays her as uncaring and mean
 - The imagery is effective at showing that she has a low-level job and works for cheap
 - The imagery shows how Johnny and his mother look very similar to one another

Read the passage and answer question 2 that follows.

I should be scared, I thought with an odd detached feeling, but I'm not. The cinders and embers began falling on us, stinging and smarting like ants. Suddenly, in the red glow and the haze, I remembered wondering what it was like in a burning ember, and I thought: Now I know, it's a red hell. Why aren't I scared?

2. _____ How is the following sentence from the passage effective?

The cinders and embers began falling on us, stinging and smarting like ants.

- The sentence emphasizes how dangerous the fire is and how the boys are in a risky situation
- The sentence emphasizes the importance of the fire to Ponyboy's thoughts
- The sentence describes Johnny's life as heroic and valuable
- The sentence shows that the church is burning down by a big fire

Read the passage and answer questions 3-6 that follow.

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

3. _____ Which of the following lines is a metaphor?
- "So dawn goes down to day."
 - "Her early leaf's a flower."
 - "Her hardest hue to hold."
 - "So Eden sank to grief."
